THE SAINTS OF LENT

Lent is an intense season of conversion, repentance and penance. But as the Catechism of the Catholic Church notes, "The Christian who seeks to purify himself of his sin and to become holy with the help of God's grace is not alone. We are united with the holy men and women who have gone before us, in the 'wonderful exchange' of the communion of saints, the holiness of one profits others" (CCC 1474-1475). As we journey through Lent, consider inviting along these saints whose feasts we celebrate this month, taking inspiration from their lives and asking for their intercession.

St. Katharine Drexel—March 3: A socialite heiress who joyfully gave everything away. Born into a life of great comfort as the daughter of a wealthy banker in Philadelphia, Katharine Drexel (1858-1955) devoted her life to service, and to giving away her massive inheritance. As a young woman, she realized that true happiness could not be found in money or the things of the world. "All, all, all (there is no exception) is passing away and will pass away," she wrote. "The question alone important, the solution of which depends upon how I have spent my life, is the state of my soul at the moment of death; infinite misery or infinite happiness!" In 1887, she asked Pope Leo XIII to send missionaries to the Native Americans. He replied, "Why not become a missionary yourself, my child?" So she founded a new religious community, the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, and established 145 missions, 12 schools for Native Americans and 50 schools for African-Americans including Xavier University of Louisiana. She died, at 97, with nothing left to give.

Sts. Perpetua and Felicity—March 7: Young mothers who faced a grisly death for Christ. Perpetua and Felicity were catechumens in Carthage when they were arrested in the year 203 AD for the crime of being Christians. Perpetua was a 22-year-old mother of an infant son; her friend Felicity was a pregnant slave. They were baptized in captivity. At their trial, the judge urged Perpetua to offer a sacrifice to the emperor and save herself for the sake of her baby, but she would not deny Christ. She and her companions were condemned, "and joyfully we returned to our prison," she wrote in her famous diary. Two days before they were to die, Felicity gave birth, "You suffer so much now—what will you do when you are tossed to the beasts?" someone asked. She answered, "Another will be inside me who will suffer for me, just as I shall be suffered for Him." In the arena, Perpetua and Felicity were attacked by a fierce cow, then had their throats slit. Before they died, Perpetua exhorted her companions, "Stand fast in the faith, and love one another, all of you, and be not offended at my sufferings."

St. Patrick—March 17: The young slave who converted the land of his captivity. As a teenager in Britain, Patrick (389-461) was kidnapped by pirates and brought as a slave to Ireland, where he was forced to work as a shepherd. Alone in the wilderness, young Patrick turned to God in earnest for the first time in his life. "More and more the love of God increased, and my sense of awe before God," he wrote in his Confession. "Faith grew, and my spirit was moved, so that in one day I would pray up to one hundred times, and at night perhaps the same." After six years of slavery, he made a daring escape and eventually returned to his family, who pleaded with him never to leave them again. But one night in a dream he heard the Irish people crying, "We beg you, holy boy, to come and walk again among us." He became a priest and in 432, he returned to Ireland as a bishop, and he spent the rest of his life there preaching the Gospel and baptizing converts.

St. Joseph—March 19: The silent man who devoted his life to Jesus and Mary. We know only a few details about the earthly father of the Son of God. He seems to have been a quiet man—the Gospels do not record a single word spoken by Joseph. He was certainly not a wealthy man—at Jesus' presentation in the temple, his parents offered the sacrifice of the poor, "a pair of turtledoves or two young pigeons" (Luke 2:24). He was a humble working man—when the people of Nazareth took offense at Jesus' teaching, they scoffed, "Is he not the carpenter's son?" (Matt 1:19). Most importantly, Joseph was a "righteous man" (Matt 1:19) who trusted God at all times and devoted himself to caring for the Holy Family. As patron of the universal Church, he also watches over us. St. Teresa of Avila said, "I have never known anyone to be truly devoted to St. Joseph who did not noticeably advance in virtue, for he gives very real help to souls who commend themselves to him." (Butler's Lives of the Saints edited by Herbert J Thurston, SJ & Donald Attwater)

Hour of Power/Friday Adoration 3/18/2018

Secret Shame Venerable Fulton Sheen

To keep sin to one self is worse than keeping a disease to one-self. A patient confides his physical or mental sickness to the doctor, as a student offers his ignorance to the teacher; why should not sin also have a confidante? The memory of wrongdoing, if kept to oneself, will do one of two things: Either it will become a temptation to repeated sin, or its remorse will paralyze our mortal efforts toward betterment with such despairing words as, "Oh, what's the use?" What the hand is to the eye in providing relief from the speck, that the tongue ought to be the heart providing release from sin. My tongue will tell the anger of my heart; Or else my, heart, concealing it will break. Please call Ken Cantwell at 620-3675 or the Parish Office at 898-1779 to sign up for an hour of weekly Adoration before the Blessed Sacrament and make Jesus your "confidante" and say good by to a life of shame.

CATHOLIC IDENTITY /RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

BASIC CATECHESIS- Ken Cantwell, DRE

CHURCH HISTORY (Cont'd) 03/18/2018

50. Is there a heresy that does not originate from within the Church? Yes, the "religion" of Islam or Mohammed came from without, which embraces many elements of Catholicism, but totally REJECTS the Incarnation.

51. What are some of the common elements that Islam shares with Catholicism? Islam like Catholicism believes in eternal life, personal responsibility, ecclesiastical unity, Marian devotion and the fatherhood of God.

52. When was Islam established and by whom? Historically, in the ancient city of Antioch (Antakya, Turkey today) in 637 A.D. by the religious prophet Mohammed.

53. What is the fundamental difference between Islam and Catholicism? While man possesses free will, and all that implies in right and wrong choices, Islam denies the necessity for a Savior or Redeemer to intercede with the Father.

54. Is there another critical difference between Islam and Catholicism? Yes, another major difference would be Islam's forced/violent conversion of the "infidel" while Christians accept Christ through their own free choice .

55. Beside Islam, what were some of the other major heresies that confronted the early Church?

Some of the major heresies were:

- i. Arianism---Denies the divinity of Jesus.
- ii. Docetism---Denies the humanity of Jesus.
- iii. Dualism---There are two Gods; an evil God and a good God.
- iv. Manicheism---A form of dualism that argues that the evil God created the material world of matter, and the good God created the spiritual world of the soul.
